Dear HERBEQUE;

Just wanted to thank you for the delicious food these past few months. I've had everything from the grill, and I no longer know which is my favorite: the ribs, pulled pork, chicken or turkey legs. I had gone to a highly praised (and expensive) rib restaurant a few weeks ago and all I could think about was how much more delicious your ribs taste. I missed you. My test of ribs is how good they taste without any sauce. You win! And, with the sauce? Perfection.
